The KoMo FlicFloc is a very stylish hand operated grain flaker. If you prefer fresh, naturally rolled oats (will flake any grain) to stale, chemically-preserved flakes, for your breakfast, the FlicFloc is right up your alley way.

The design brings an entirely different engineering approach to grain flaking. Rather than using traditional cylindrical rollers, its conical rollers rotate on ball bearings in a case of laminated beech wood.

The FlicFloc turns easily and literally is child's play. It makes a hearty flake from oats and other grains.

A supplied clamp secures the FlicFloc to your table or counter. Then just fill the hopper you're ready to start flaking. You can roll about 100g of oats a minute.

Standing 185cm tall, the FlicFloc won't take up much space in your kitchen. But while its dimensions are trim, its construction is exceptionally robust. The hopper capacity is 100g, and the glass receptacle is included.

The FlicFloc has a 3 year warranty.

KoMo flour mills and flakers are innovative designs developed by Wolfgang Mock of Germany and Peter Koidl of Austria.
Charlotte's Living Harmony is the only importer of KoMo flour mills and grain flakers to Australia and is proud to represent their fine European craftsmanship to our customers.

KoMo also makes the FlocMan - Electric grain flaker, and the combo grain mill and flaker Duett in beechwood.
